Texas Rangers move to D/FW: Could it fly?

BY SCOTT WILLIAMS
Fort Worth Star-Telegram

D/FW AIRPORT — The question Texas Rangers fans are being asked today, team officials began asking themselves a year ago: Why not baseball at Dallas/Fort Worth Airport?

Rangers President Mike Stone yesterday said that D/FW offers some of the same advantages the team now enjoys in Arlington, such as high visibility, easy access and a central location.

If a survey of 2,000 Rangers season-ticket holders on new stadium sites reflects a preference for the airport, Stone said, team officials will resume talks that began with D/FW administrators last year.

"The airport could work," he said. "So could a lot of others."

Rangers and D/FW officials met last year for a preliminary assessment of the availability of vacant airport land for a

(More on STADIUM on Page 6)